

OYSTER WARS ON BOOKMAKERS

Man In Underclothes Is Chased By Vice Squad

ENRAGED HUSBAND IS CAUSE OF IT ALL

Female Detective Gets Alleged Evidence and Night-Time Raid Results.

Excitement ran high shortly before 2 o'clock this morning when Lieutenant Davis and Sergeant McQuade, of the vice squad, raided the house at 125 K street northwest and gave chase to a man who was garbed only in his underwear, after he had leaped from a bedroom window. Police whistles and the reports of pistols caused many to peer out the windows on the route of the chase.

The Reason of It All.

About three weeks ago a woman private detective was hired by Clarence L. Witz, proprietor of the Neal Brothers' Circus, which is now in Goshen, Ind., to trail his wife, Mrs. Minerva E. Witz. She received information that the woman was at the street address and she engaged a room.

Following a week's observation she felt justified in notifying the husband of what was going on. Witz got into communication with Detective Joseph Morgan, of the Central office, and Mrs. Witz was assigned to the case. The raid this morning was the result.

The man who fled gave his name as Ernest John Schuman, twenty-five years old, and said he was electrician with the circus. Mrs. Witz, her boy left Goshen simultaneously with the disappearance of Schuman, it was said.

Witz learned that Schuman had purchased the K street home some time ago and that he had been living there with a woman. He gave the number to the detectives, and they, in conjunction with the female operative, placed the house under surveillance.

Betrayed by Underwear.

When McQuade saw Schuman leap from the window he gave chase. As he ran he fired his revolver in the air and blew his whistle as loudly as he could to head the man off. Schuman succeeded in reaching a clump of shrubbery, but the white underwear proved his undoing. With the aid of a flashlight he was caught. Schuman and Mrs. Witz were charged with a statutory offense.

KANSAS CITY INSURES SAFETY TO NON-UNION MEN

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 21.—Troops will be sent into Kansas City, Kans., unless rail strike disorders there are quelled within 24 hours, according to Gov. Henry J. Allen, who has arrived here. Immediate reorganization of the police department was begun today to obviate the necessity of sending the troops.

"Every man has the right to work," said Governor Allen, in issuing his edict. "No man should be compelled to skulk from his work and sneak down alleys for fear of being beaten."

"Every man in Kansas has the right of protection and he will be protected."

IRISH IRREGULARS BURN MACKAY WILSON'S HOME

BELFAST, Aug. 21.—Republican irregulars today raided and burned the home of Mackay Wilson, uncle of the late Lord Marshal Sir Henry Hugh Wilson, former chief of the British Imperial general staff.

The residence, which was in County Londonderry, had been vacant since the first of the year, the family having taken refuge in the island. Many valuable family records and mementoes of the past were destroyed.

WHEELING AND ERIE CUTS TWO PASSENGER TRAINS

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 21.—Due to the railroad strike and necessity for conserving motive power to move coal to the lakes, the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad today announced a curtailment in passenger train service, to continue during the shopmen's strike.

Train No. 15 to Canton and Cleveland and train No. 32, Cleveland to Wheeling, have both been annulled.

"MYSTERY" MAN SOUGHT IN KILLING OVER WOMAN

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 21.—Police today were searching for a "mystery" man, who late last night shot and fatally wounded Harvey C. Nelson, at the latter's home. Nelson died without making a statement.

Charles Cash, the only known eye witness, said a stranger approached the Nelson house, and began an argument. Police, however, say Cash was the aggressor, there being a former woman friend of Cash at the house. It is alleged Nelson, acting as peacemaker, received the bullet intended for Cash, who police say had attacked and was beating the "stranger."

PREPAREDNESS URGED BY HARDING

D.C. TRAIN SEE DAWN HITS AUTO, OF PEACE IN KILLING 2 LABOR WAR

Bodies Are Thrown Under Freight Car on Siding. One Badly Burned.

By International News Service. BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 21.—Two men were instantly killed today at Harman's station, near Odenton, Md., when their automobile truck was struck by a Pennsylvania railroad express from Washington to Baltimore, running at a rate, it is said, of nearly sixty miles an hour.

The bodies of the men—James Burkett, 2703 West Fairmont avenue, and Edward Deaver—were mangled and thrown under a freight car on a siding.

Burkett was decapitated and the body burned almost beyond recognition from the flames from a gasoline explosion.

Wreckage of the truck was strewn across both tracks for nearly 1,000 yards.

POLICE RAID OFFICES OF FOSTER, I. W. W. WORKER

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—No arrests had been executed today as the result of the raid yesterday of the offices of the Trade Union Educational League, in which private papers and letters of William Z. Foster, propagandist of the "one big union" idea, were seized.

The raid followed news of the wrecking of a Michigan Central express train near Gary, Ind.

Assistant State's Attorney William F. McLaughlin stated today that the papers seized in the raid bore information on the "one big union" propaganda for railroad workers.

Foster, who has been on a speaking tour of the Middle West, is not in the city, but was reported to have been at Joliet, where he has been working among the striking railroad men.

N. Y. MOTHERS CAN CHECK BABIES FOR A FORTNIGHT

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The Federation of Jewish Philanthropies today announced that any mother in New York city who has children under nine years of age who make it impossible for her to take a vacation, may check them for a two weeks' period beginning August 25 with the Bright Child Nursery and Kindergarten.

The children will be given a vacation themselves. They will be taken to the summer home of the organization at Oakhurst, N. J., where they are promised proper playgrounds, attention and medical supervision for the fortnight. The minimum age for children eligible for admission at the summer camp is eighteen months.

TARIFF BACK IN HOUSE AFTER YEAR'S ABSENCE

The new Republican tariff bill returned to the House at noon today after a year's absence in the Senate. It was greeted with prolonged applause from both sides of the chamber.

The House committee on commerce reported to the House that the measure had been passed by the Senate on Saturday.

No action was taken on the bill, the House awaiting a report from the Rules committee on procedure.

U. S. FINDS DEMAND IS LOWER FOR $5 STAMP

What's wrong with the $5 stamp? The Postoffice Department is bewailing the fact that demand for this luxury has fallen off to a third of what it once was, in spite of the fact that the "stamp is one of the most attractive both in design and color put out by the department and really ought to do a whole lot of business."

In 1919 a total of 47,255 of the $5 stamps were sold, the number having dropped to but 15,411 this year. In 1921 only 21,500 were sold.

Soused Partridge Does Imitation of Bob White

SEAFORD, Del., Aug. 21.—The latest "hootch" story down this way, and one that is vouched for by two reputable Federalsburg (Md.) citizens, Robert Nichols and Daniel Wright, illustrates the far-reaching effects of the liquor traffic.

While strolling through the country some distance from town, these men heard the clear call of a female partridge some distance away, the bird uttering "Bob White, Bob White," distinctly, but with an evident note of anger.

Suddenly, from a nearby clump of bushes, sounded the male bird's response, and to their amusement it stuttered as it came out in the open, uttering hurriedly, "B-b-Bob White; B-b-Bob White."

Seeing Nichols and Wright, the male partridge winked at them and proceeded to navigate across the field like a rudderless ship in a storm. On investigation it was discovered that some sour mash from a still, either nearby or at a distance, had been dumped in the field, and Mr. Partridge had been indulging with the result that his speech was thick, and he answered his wife by stuttering—"B-b-Bob White."

THREE BANDITS HUNTED AFTER HOLD-UP FOR $5

Victim Tells of Trio Jumping From Auto Near Home and Robbing Him.

Three motor bandits who held up and robbed Tom Yama of $5 in front of his home, 3000 Woodley road northwest, shortly before last midnight, are being sought today by the police.

According to the story related by Yama to headquarters detectives he was on his way home about 11:30 o'clock when a motor car drew up to the curb and three men leaped out.

One of the bandits drew a pistol, and, flourishing it in Yama's face, demanded money.

"I haven't got any money," said Yama.

"We'll see about that," said the bandit with the pistol. "Frisk him."

While the spokesman backed the victim against the front of his own home, the other two assailants went through his pockets.

"Only five bucks," snorted one of them, disgustedly. "Well, take 'em."

"And the last I saw of them was when they whizzed around the corner with my money," Yama concluded his story.

10,000 MOOSE GATHER FOR ORDER'S CONVENTION

AURORA, Ill., Aug. 21.—Ten thousand Moose are encamped in tents at Mooseheart, and hundreds more are coming in on every train for the thirty-fourth annual convention of the Loyd Order of Moose which opens tomorrow.

President Harding is expected Friday to dedicate the James Davis memorial. Exercises preceding the convention include the initiation of the "Harding class of 1,000 candidates."

The Pennsylvania baby village, the Ohio plaza and the Wisconsin, New Jersey and Indiana buildings will be dedicated tomorrow.

WAR BEGUN ON RACING GAMBLERS

Restaurants and Other Places Harboring Bookmakers Will Be Raided.

Commissioner James F. Oyster, in charge of the police department, today declared war on Washington bookmakers.

"Give them hell," summarizes the instructions Commissioner Oyster will give to a "flying squadron" of policemen and detectives who will be assigned to the special duty of rounding up bookmakers.

The closing of poolrooms and restaurants where bookmakers promiscuously carry on their work is planned by Commissioner Oyster.

"The bookmaking situation in Washington is such that drastic action must be taken," said the Commissioner. "I intend to throw out a dragnet for every bookmaker in Washington."

Classed With Bootleggers.

"I am just as much interested in rounding up the bookmakers as I am in rounding up the bootleggers."

"This is going to be a war to the end. I am going to see that this 'flying squadron' arrests every bookmaker in town. Not only that, but we are going to rearrest every bookmaker who returns to his work after the first arrest."

"If the police station is not big enough to hold the bookmakers, then we'll lock them up in the District building."

"If we find that the present laws are not strict enough, I will ask the Commissioners to go to Congress and seek additional legislation."

"I plan to give the bookmakers of Washington hell."

Commissioner Oyster has made numerous drives on bookmakers, but none of his former campaigns were as vigorous as the present drive.

Expected Arrests Every Day.

"This drive is going to continue indefinitely," he said. "I expect my flying squadron to make arrests every day. We are going to round up every person in Washington who makes books."

Many raids have been made on poolrooms in recent months by the police. In some poolrooms the police have made several raids.

"When these pool room proprietors make a racket for a moment, they will find they are going to have a difficult time," the Commissioner said. "I am in favor of closing up every pool room and restaurant that permits bookmakers to carry on their work in them."

MACHINISTS WARNED NOT TO BE HOPEFUL OF TRUCE

"Put your trust in God, but keep your powder dry."

This warning to the 85,000 striking railroad machinists not to place too much hope in the present negotiated truce looking toward the end of the railroad strike, but to be prepared to "put forth every effort to gain a victory," was embodied in a circular letter from William H. Johnston, international president of the machinists, in the mails today.

At the same time Johnston warned strikers and sympathizers against any demonstrations "that could be enlarged to turn against the strikers the tide of public sentiment now obviously in their favor."

Government taking over the roads he termed "moonshine and bluster."

PHIL DOUGLASS DENIED ANY CHANCE OF APPEAL

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—"Shuffling" Phil Douglas, former Giants' pitcher, forever barred from organized baseball by Judge Landis, will not secure a rehearing of his case, it was stated today from Judge Landis' office.

"The guilty party has been found and punished, and so far as our office is concerned, the matter is a closed incident," it was stated.

LATE FINANCIAL NEWS

RAILROAD STOCKS LEAD RISE TO RECORD POINT IN NEW YORK MARKET

By W. S. COUSINS. (Copyright, 1922, by Cosmopolitan News Service.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Railroad stock again pushed forward vigorously in today's session of the stock market and, in addition to market-making up new high price records in a large number of individual stocks, established the level of railroad averages at the highest point for the year to date.

Buying of railroad stocks today was conducted on an extensive scale and in an enthusiastic manner, representing, according to the testimony of leading brokers, a revival of interest by investors who have long spurned railroad stocks.

Settlement of the shopmen's strike was only incidental to the more important factor of prospective high earnings in store for the railroads as a result of the general revival in business.

As a result of the forward movement in practically all of the active railroad stocks today the average high earnings in store for the railroads as a result of the general revival in business.

Bullish enthusiasm was also in evidence in the equipment and industrial stocks, and the market improved their price level by about one point on the average. All of the leading equipments, Baldwin, American Locomotive and Lima Locomotive, surged forward to record levels for 1922.

GOOD MARKET FOR RAILS ON STOCK EXCHANGE

By MURDOCK ROBERTS. (Copyright, 1922, by Cosmopolitan News Service.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—With an enthusiastic market for railroad stocks on the stock exchange, it was natural that there should also be heavy trading in the bond market in that division of the stock exchange.

There was a general upward movement in prices of the low priced, or so-called, semi-speculative bonds, with issues of the St. Paul, Erie, Pelee and Southern Railway in the lead.

St. Paul convertible 4½s sold at 75½, refunding 4½s at 68½, and European 4s of 1925 at 85½, all representing an increase of about one point. Erie general 4s were up one point at 87½. Frisco adjustment 6s at 84—a new high—income 6s up 1½ at 76½; Missouri, Kansas & Texas adjustment 5s at a new high at 60½; Southern Railway 4s at 71.

Liberty bonds were firm, notwithstanding the renewal of reports from Washington concerning the probability of the passage of the Joliet bill. The fourth 4½s were the most active, selling at 101.00.

Foreign bonds were irregular, Chile 8s losing 1½ at 101½, Dutch East Indies 6s sold at 94½, Canadian 5s of 1922 at 89½, United Kingdom 4½s of 1927 at 105.

DR. MULCAHY RETURNS FROM TOUR OF EUROPE

After an extensive tour of Europe in which Ireland, England, France, Germany, Belgium and Holland were visited, Dr. Daniel D. Mulcahy, accompanied by Mrs. Mulcahy, his son Daniel Mulcahy, Jr., and Patrick Smith, returned to Washington yesterday.

They arrived home aboard the Rotterdam of the Holland-American Line. Dr. Mulcahy said he was impressed by the spirit and bustle of life in Germany where everybody seems hard at work. Conditions in Ireland are saddening to the hearts of all Irish and Irish-Americans he said. But conditions are sure to improve after the next general elections.

ALIEN TREATY RIGHTS BILL IS POSTPONED

Lack of a quorum prevented the Senate Foreign Relations Committee from acting today on the Kellogg bill for the protection of the treaty rights of aliens in this country, the enactment of which President Harding urged in his message to Congress Friday.

PRESIDENT TELLS NEED OF TROOPS AT REVIEW

Favors Training 100,000 Citizens Annually Instead of 28,000, He Says.

President Harding today sounded a call for military preparedness, not that war can be expected, but "solely for American preservation and the continuity of the American republic."

"If I had my way," the President declared to 1,000 student soldiers from Camp Meade, Md., who passed in review before him, "instead of 28,000 in training camps now, there would be more than 100,000 annually studying and preparing for military service, not that they would be expected to be called upon for such service, but to keep the nation prepared."

Plans No Armed Campaign.

The President added that the United States today did not contemplate an armed campaign in any direction.

Preparedness during peace, despite the disarmament program, was cited as the national policy by the President.

"You are citizens of a nation wholly devoted to peace," said the President. "This nation is only concerned with peace and with its national security."

"You have benefited as all Americans might benefit. You have profited from the training camps last year. This number was increased to 28,000 this year. If I had my wish there would be more than 100,000 American young men in the training camps."

"You are spectators this morning given new assurance, new belief, in the perpetuity of this republic and I congratulate you from the bottom of my heart."

President Harding was accompanied by Mrs. Harding, Secretary of War Weeks, Mrs. Weeks, Gen. John J. Pershing, and George Christian, secretary to the President. The President reviewed the troops from a reserved space on the north of the Ellipse. Behind the Presidential party were officers of the regular army, secret service men and special guards.

Mrs. Harding Untangles Muscles.

Mrs. Harding, with head and foot, kept time to the music of the infantry band, stationed opposite the President, as the bronzed students of war passed. Her quick-wittedness saved this band from confusion shortly after, when the cavalry unit of the camp approached, headed by its own musicians—a horseback. The infantry band was supposed to fall in behind the foot soldiers, but so intent on his work was its conductor that the band played on while the horses drew nearer.

Mrs. Harding whispered hurried directions to Maj. Gen. Charles J. Bailey, commanding the third corps area, who stood next to her, and he relayed the information, by signs, to the band. The musicians dropped in behind the infantry, about two jumps ahead of the cavalry. Mrs. Harding sighed with relief. The review was saved.

Thousands Witness Event.

Infantry, cavalry and artillery, after passing in review, realigned themselves and drew near the President in battalion formation—the infantry facing the President, the
